ABOUT THIS SESSION

You are cordially invited to attend a webinar on the recent Environmental Emergencies organized within the framework of the Geneva Environment Network.

This event will offer the latest environmental analysis and assessment of two emergencies currently faced by the international community and UNEP's response.

1. Environmental risks of the Beirut explosion
2. Environmental challenges of the COVID-19 pandemic

UNEP and the UNEP/OCHA Joint Environment Unit are working around the world to respond to the environmental impacts of natural disasters, industrial accidents, and conflicts. They conduct field-based assessments to reduce the risk of disasters and conflicts and promote environmental cooperation for peacebuilding, among other activities.

SPEAKERS

- Gary LEWIS | Director, UNEP Crisis Management Branch
- Margherita FANCHIOTTI | Associate Expert, UNEP/OCHA Joint Environment Unit
- Muralee THUMMARUKUDY | Operations Manager, UNEP Crisis Management Branch
