Meta 3. Garantizar que al menos el 30 % de las zonas terrestres y las zonas marinas del mundo, especialmente las de particular importancia para la diversidad biológica y sus contribuciones a las personas, estén conservadas por medio de sistemas ecológicamente representativos y bien conectados de áreas protegidas administrados eficaz y equitativamente y otras medidas de conservación eficaces basadas en áreas, CON EL CONSENTIMIENTO LIBRE, PREVIO E INFORMADO DE LOS PUEBLOS INDÍGENAS Y LAS COMUNIDADES LOCALES, E INCLUYENDO A TRAVÉS DEL RECONOCIMIENTO Y APOYO ADECUADOS DE SUS TIERRAS, TERRITORIOS Y RECURSOS COLECTIVOS y que se integren a los paisajes terrestres y marinos más amplios.

- La mayor parte de la biodiversidad del mundo se encuentra en tierras, territorios y aguas indígenas, lo que ya es una prueba de la gestión eficaz de la biodiversidad.
- Es necesario garantizar el CLPI de los PI para garantizar el respeto a los derechos humanos.
- Los pueblos indígenas, las tierras, los territorios y las aguas son distintos de las áreas protegidas y/o otras medidas de conservación eficaces basadas en áreas, y no pueden limitarse a estas dos categorías.
• Meta 5. Garantizar que la recolección, el comercio y la utilización de especies silvestres sean sostenibles, legales, y RESPETANDO EL DERECHO CONSUETUDINARIO Y EL USO CONSUETUDINARIO SOSTENIBLE y seguras para la salud humana.

• El uso consuetudinario sostenible está declarado como ilegal y criminalizado en muchos países, y los pueblos indígenas y las comunidades locales suelen estar excluidos de la toma de decisiones sobre la definición de lo que es sostenible, legal y seguro.

• Necesidad de garantizar el respeto del derecho consuetudinario y el uso consuetudinario sostenible de la biodiversidad para garantizar el respeto a los derechos humanos
• Meta 20. Garantizar que conocimientos pertinentes, incluidos los conocimientos tradicionales, las innovaciones y las prácticas de los pueblos indígenas y las comunidades locales con su consentimiento libre, previo y fundamentado, guíen la toma de decisiones para la gestión eficaz de la diversidad biológica, y el DESARROLLO SOSTENIBLE CULTURALMENTE APROPIADO posibilitando el seguimiento, y promoviendo EL RESPETO A LOS DERECHOS, la concienciación, la educación y la investigación.

• Positivo: inclusión del CLPI

• Los conocimientos técnicos también deben guiar el desarrollo sostenible culturalmente apropiado

• Es necesario trabajar más en el respeto de los derechos de los PI sobre los conocimientos tradicionales para aplicar el artículo 8 j)
Propuesta del FIIB

Meta 21. Garantizar la participación equitativa y efectiva de los pueblos indígenas y las comunidades locales, en la toma de decisiones relacionadas con la diversidad biológica, y respetar sus derechos sobre las tierras, los territorios y los recursos así como de las mujeres, las niñas y la juventud.

• Positivo: alineación con el lenguaje de la Declaración de las Naciones Unidas sobre los Derechos de los Pueblos Indígenas

• Los derechos sobre los recursos se refieren mucho más claramente sólo a los pueblos indígenas y las comunidades locales.

• La participación equitativa es más inclusiva, ya que también menciona a las mujeres y a los jóvenes.
Muchas gracias
